

SOVIET FLAG STILL FLIES IN CITY

Stalingrad Is Still Held

Reds Battle Nazi Forces In Streets

By The Canadian Press
The Red flag still flew over rubble-torn Stalingrad at mid-day, the Russian high command announced. Soviet troops counter-attacked in some districts of the Volga metropolis and forced the Germans to retreat. It was the 29th day of epic defence.

German field headquarters asserted briefly that Nazi shock troops had captured additional, strongly-fortified blocks of houses in Stalingrad after close-quarter fighting.

"Attacks don't halt," said dispatches to the Soviet newspaper Pravda. "Hand-to-hand clashes are going on in the square, on street crossings and in houses."

Reference to "the Square" perhaps indicated the Germans were battling near the heart of the city.

Units repulsed several enemy attacks and advanced in some sectors," the Soviet command said.

"Men of a guards (elite) unit, in stubborn fighting with the enemy, wiped out more than 400 Germans and destroyed three tanks and two armored cars."

Dispatches to the German newspaper Frankfurter Zeitung, admitted that the fall of Stalingrad, and the final breaking up of the Russian front, has been delayed."

Heavy Russian guns were reported shelling the Germans from the east bank of the Volga, and Soviet reserves were said to be moving into the city's hard-pressed defenders.

Fresh Nazi troops were reported moving into action to replace the invaders' terrific losses, and advancing reaching Ankara, Turkey, described large new movements of German troops en route to the Soviet front.

In the central Caucasus, the Soviet command said German troops attacking out-numbered Red army divisions had captured some height and a settlement in the Mzokok area, 50 miles north of the Grozny oil fields, but declared the Russians killed more than 250 Nazis before retreating.

TRY TO SHIFT INTEREST
The Berlin radio, apparently seeking to shift attention from the Stalingrad front, asserted that Russian troops had been encircled on the central (Moscow) front after breaking through German lines at the town of Riazan, key Nazi stronghold 135 miles northwest of Moscow.

Threat of Big Nazi Naval Force Seen in R.A.F. Moves
LONDON, Sept. 22.—(CP)—The threat of a big German naval force breaking out of the Baltic to combine with powerful North Sea units already a menace to Allied convoys was given by British observers today as the likely reason for recent intensification of British mine-laying in Nazi home waters.

Even when bad weather kept all other R.A.F. forces at home last night, big mine-sweeping planes were at work over the German north coast. The Germans said British aircraft were in the Schleswig-Holstein area—where they might have been mining the sea—when the German battleship, the 35,000-ton Tirpitz, was reported yesterday to have left her summer haven at Trondheim, in Norway, now that darkness is returning to the Arctic, and to be taking on board supplies to Murmansk.

Repeatedly at Kiel undergoing repairs from battle damage are the 26,000-ton battleship Scharnhorst, the fast German cruiser Eiden, and the 8,000-ton light cruiser Nürnberg, as well as the new aircraft carrier Graf Zeppelin, which may be ready for service.

IN GEORGIAN BAY

Many Drown as Launch Is Sunk

MIDLAND, Ont., Sept. 22.—(CP)—The 75-foot, twin-engine motor launch, W.W.-Net "went down like a stone" off nearby Honey Harbor in Georgian Bay last night, taking possibly 24 of the 41 men aboard to their death.

The originally-reported toll of 25 was reduced by one in mid-afternoon today and there was possibility that three others listed previously as missing and believed drowned were safe.

Stewart Cheatham of Midland was found alive on Beausoleil island and reports that could not be confirmed immediately reached here that three others also were alive on the island, about eight miles from here. The names of the three could not be learned.

PRESIDENT SURVIVES
Survival of 16 of the 41 men who set out on a gay picnic party to celebrate completion of a war contract at the Midland Foundry and Machine Company had been confirmed before Cheatham was found. Most of the men were from the shift of the foundry and the party included Elmer Shaw of Midland, formerly of Toronto, president of the company, J. N. Bicknell, Toronto lawyer and partner in the firm, and Bert Corbeau, foundry superintendent and former National Hockey League star.

Shaw was saved; Bicknell and Corbeau were among the missing and believed drowned. Corbeau owned the launch and was believed to have been at the wheel when the boat went down.

Not even the survivors seemed to have a clear idea of just what happened. Most of them found themselves in the water.

Edmonton Battle Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—A final effort to reduce non-essential production in Canada to levels achieved in the past only among populations physically involved in battle, has become the sole remaining reserve of man-power in this country. The government, through the War Production Board and the Munitions Supply Department, it is learned, is going ahead with drastic plans to drain the last man-power possible out of non-war industries.

Two vital facts, highlighting the critical problem of finding more workers, have been established in the last few days.

The belief that a considerable reserve of labor supply exists in man-power has received a shattering blow from the first returns coming in on the registration of women from 20 to 34 years. There simply will not be enough from labor to meet the calculated munitions requirements of 25,000 women workers in the next few months, unless civilian industries are shut down promptly.

First steps to shut down non-essential industries, which have been taken, a survey of the eastern Canada, have not produced the volume of workers for war industries suffering from labor scarcity. When war production authorities won the service reserve.

Nazis Showing Rage, Anxiety At Russ Sunk

and fear, they attributed it primarily to Great Britain and to Prime Minister Winston Churchill personally. One French language broadcast from Berlin said:

"Such plans must be answered by iron and blood and we will give this answer. Our plan has been originated only in the head of a Jew or an Englishman. This plan reveals the real British mentality."

Germany also continued a new campaign denouncing Sweden as a coward. Swedish Nazis failed to gain a single seat in Sunday's Swedish County Council elections while Communists made gains.

Berlin broadcast a "serious warning" to Sweden that if they were not vigilant it might find itself "very much in the class of the Danes."

SITUATION "SERIOUS"

"This warning should not be disregarded although the Danes in the world are directed toward the eastern front," Berlin said. "In view of the gains made by the Communists in the situation is really serious. While these elections were being held in Sweden, the German army must be realized that Bolshevism is winning in Sweden strongly."

The Moscow radio reported that Yugoslav paratroop troops had captured a large force of Italian and Croat Quilting troops and taken the town of Pagan, that German and Italian troops had been killed by the desertion of a German and that the German army was now battling Axis forces in four areas.

Riveters Idle At Coast Yard

VANCOUVER, Sept. 22.—(CPI)—A strike by 110 riveters at the coast yard early today forced riveters to remain idle and brought to a halt all riveting on cargo ship hulls under construction at the yard.

The strike, the all-day strike—the fifth staged by passers-by in Vancouver, although the first staged by the boys to force the operators to grant them an increase in wages from 45 to 60 cents an hour.

Twelve more 60 passers-by in another Vancouver yard went on strike but returned to work later in the day.

Region Demands More Vigorous U.S. War Effort

—Drafting of both labor and capital for war production and for lowering of the military conscription age to 18 was demanded yesterday by the American Legion in the closing session of its three-day convention.

Almost as one voice the 1,500 delegates passed resolution after resolution demanding more vigorous war effort. Not a floor fight developed throughout the convention and the American Legion executive, was chosen national commander by acclamation.

In a blistering acceptance speech, he assailed those hampering the war effort as saboteurs and traitors and said the time had come to deal with them.

Pledging the Legion's fullest support to President Roosevelt in the war effort, he declared that the Legion called for the protection of personal liberty to the limit that the government continue to function along constitutional lines.

The Legion urged legislation to conscript capital, labor, industry and agriculture as well as fighting manpower. It declared itself in support of the National Service Act to utilize manpower to the maximum.

The Legion asked congress to provide job security for those returning from the armed forces and also for a year's compulsory military training for youth after the war.

Jap Premier Boasts Subs To Hit Coast

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Premier Hideki Tojo said last night that Japanese Premier Tojo, in a speech before the Black Dragon Society Aug. 6, had boasted of Japan's plans to seize and control the Pacific Ocean and Indian oceans and to conduct submarine operations against the United States and Great Britain.

The Korean National Front Federation said, also told of submarine operations against the Pacific coast during the coming six months. Tojo, the reports said, "particularly named Dutch Harbor of the Aleutians and the city of Tacoma, Washington."

The Federation "said there was this reference to the possibility of Japanese attack on Russia."

"When questioned by Foreign Minister Matsuda regarding the possibility of Japanese attack on Russia, Tojo said that Japan was not planning to attack Russia."

"Do you think the Siberian melon is ripe for the picking?" The Korean organization seeks independence of Korea, seized by Japan early in the present century.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(BUP)—We suggest that the various sports columns try to tell the men in charge of army public relations what should be done about sports during the war.

We make this suggestion because, during the past week, we have been exposed to a couple of columns which insinuate that the possible continuation of professional sports during the next year would be a direct slap in the face for the men who are fighting and to their families.

Whether this is true we do not know, but we are confident that the men at the head of the public relations bureaus of the army, navy and other service branches know more about what should be done with sports during the war than any civilian sports columnist whose outlook may be governed entirely by what the war may mean to him personally.

QUESTION FULLY CONSIDERED

THERE have been insinuations, for example, that the payment of money to Sept. Joe Louis and Pte. Billy Conn for engaging in a heavyweight title battle on Oct. 12 will have an adverse effect upon the morale of all civilians in service with the civilian population.

Without disclosing any military secrets, we can tell you now that the matter of paying Champion Joe for this title fight has been considered for months by the war department—by brass hats far above the public relations division. Because of certain aspects of the Louis case, the decision to pay Joe was one of the earliest ever made—a decision affecting the morale of millions of persons in service and out.

This very touchy question of morale as it affected a large and important sector of our fighting men and civilians never was mentioned in any service communication. The question of paying Conn never was an issue, at all. His private debts are being paid, and since Louis is being taken care of, the entire matter, given the publicity by the war department, regardless of any misinformed critics.

Inter-Services Sports Meet Set for Wednesday

Inter-services track and field meet will be held at Varsity stadium on Wednesday afternoon with athletes from Royal Canadian Navy, No. 2 Air Observer School, No. 3 "M" Depot and No. 4 Initial Training School competing.

No. 4 Initial Training School will be host for the afternoon and several guests will be the commanding officers of the other units competing. Lieut. Crawford, R.C.N., V.R., Ofc. No. 2 A.O.S., Wing Commander Webber, No. 3 "M" Depot.

Twenty-eight flags of all allied nations will be displayed in the stadium and Sub-Lieut. Duffield, chairman of the Inter-Services Council, will present ribbons and prizes to the winners as the meet progresses.

Track and field officials will be supplied by the various units participating and neutral referees will rule on all points in dispute. P.O. J. D. Truscott, No. 4 I.T.S., will be track manager.

ST. LOUIS CHALKS UP 101st WIN

Cardinals Still Maintain 2½ Game Lead

Western Canadian Champions

Walk-Rites, of Edmonton, winners of the senior ladies' softball title for western Canada, have compiled a very impressive record during the season just ended. After winning both the city and provincial honors, the team captured the best-of-three series with Moose Jay Boyles on the latter's home grounds for the Alberta-Saskatchewan champions. Upon Winnipeg's default, the Edmonton girls have now won seven awarded western title. Out of 24 league and playoff games, Walk-Rites lost only three. Trophies won include Army and Navy cup for Alberta championship, Pepsi-Cola for team representing the province in the interprovincial series, and the Eller trophy for western title. Reading from left to right: Front row—"Mickey" McConnell, Joyce Rankin, Mabel McCormack, Jean Beatty, Minnie Wilton; second row—Jean Barton, Frances Moran, Elsie Vaughan; third row—Dolly Lane, George Berlanquet (coach), Margaret Royce, Isabel Givray, Vickie Panoz, Murray Saidman (manager-coach), Anna Belle Thompson.

Cooper, Bonham Top List

Yankee-Card Clash Would Be Test of Great Pitching

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Pitching is the pride of New York Yankees as well as of St. Louis Cardinals this year and if the world series brings these two clubs together next week anything may happen.

In the National League, Morton O. O'Connell, Cooper, the big right-handed star of the Cardinals, is considered the outstanding hurler in baseball. But the American League is perfectly willing to back another huge right-hander, Ernie Bonham of the Yankees.

These two might meet in the first game of the series a week from Wednesday and settle the argument. Right now, of course, it is impossible to be sure whether the Cardinals or Cooper's Dodgers are tossed onto the gridiron against the Yankees.

21-GAME WINNER
Cooper, winner of 21 games against seven setbacks, not only is the kind of pitcher capable of holding the Bombers at bay, but he is also a young and strong enough to make two or even three appearances in a row.

He has a "live" fast ball and is just now coming to keep his opponents from getting set. This year he has hit four batters and thrown 16 wild pitches in addition to giving 68 bases on balls. But he seldom misses the plate when it would hurt and has scored nine shutouts more than any other pitcher in either league.

The strength of the St. Louis staff goes much deeper than its ace, however. It is well balanced with six right-handers and three left-handers, and with strong and reliable specialists.

LAMIER AND BEAZLEY
After Ropes, Washington's Billy Southworth almost certainly would use Lefty Max Lanier, a 134-win pitcher, and Johnny Beasley, the sensational rookie who has won 19 and lost six. This trio likely would handle all St. Louis starting assignments.

If the Cardinals need strictly southpaw starters they have two of the best. Ernie White and Howie Bland, New York's rookie star, has won 13 and lost four. Addition of Jim "Mudcat" Brown has bolstered the relief department.

One important advantage is plenty of time in which to get ready. Ruffing, for instance, probably will start before the series. The others may go a few innings or a complete game under

Higbe Keeps Dodgers in Pennant Race

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The pennant-pursuing St. Louis Cardinals broke a 1-1 deadlock with an explosive ninth-inning rally Monday to defeat Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 and maintain their 2½-game grip on first place in the National League as they moved into their final five games.

The Cardinals registered their 101st victory of the season to tie the record of the Cardinal team of 1931, champions that year. It was their 13th one-run victory since they launched their amazing pennant drive in early June.

The Cardinals registered their 101st victory of the season to tie the record of the Cardinal team of 1931, champions that year. It was their 13th one-run victory since they launched their amazing pennant drive in early June.

The 26-year-old White pitched a masterful game for the Cardinals. He gave up only two runs in seven innings, and he struck out seven and drove home two runs.

The Cardinals had difficulty in solving pitcher Henry Gornick's off-balance delivery. When they first scored, after Kurkowski had struck out, Marlon drove a hit to second base and was sacrificed by White. Brown drove a hit to second base and was sacrificed by White. Ontario's Racing Remain "As Is" Says Hepburn

TORONTO, Sept. 22.—(CP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn said last night the province of Ontario "is not entertaining any appeal for discontinued racehorse owners' and has no intention of trying to take control of Ontario's racing out of the hands of the incorporated Canadian Racing Association.

"Ten days ago, Harry C. Nixon, provincial secretary, presented in a statement against the suspension given owner James Fair of Gainsville, by the I.C.R.A. Mr. Nixon called the suspension 'unjust' and intimated the government might use its powers to establish an appeal court to rule on decisions made by the I.C.R.A."

Junior Rugby League
E.A.C. Plays Airmen Tonight

FOURTH game in the Edmonton Junior Rugby League is billed for 8:30 p.m. tonight at Clarke Stadium, with No. 3 "M" Depot and Edmonton Athletic Club clashing for the first time.

The Airmen made very auspicious start when they defeated the Maple Leafs, 14-0, Alberta champions, in the only game they have played so far.

McLure, the only left-footed player in the team, will be handling the punting assignment for the RCAF boys, and on his previous performance rates as one of the best junior kickers in the business.

Horton, the Vancouver team who made such a good showing in the matter of picking up yards, will also be in the lineup again tonight.

The RCAF squad by virtue of their 15-5 win over the Maple Leafs last Friday are expected to furnish plenty of opposition for the smooth-working Airmen.

John Easton has been named referee for the game, with Ned Wigton as umpire. Ken McLeod will be head-line man.

The School Boys Band will be in attendance.

Frits Fires Pass For Touch

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

Fumble Enables Flyers To Deadlock Bombers 11-11

Winnipeg, Sept. 22.—(CP)—A fumble followed by a converted touchdown in the last two minutes of play Monday night enabled Royal Canadian Air Force Flyers to deadlock Winnipeg Bombers 11-11 in the second game of the Winnipeg Rugby Football Senior League.

Flyers, victors over Bombers, 11-11, in the second game of the Winnipeg Rugby Football Senior League, moved into scoring position in the closing minutes when Ken Preston, Bomber backfielder, fumbled Charlie Harrison's kick on his own 15-yard line.

Wally Chikowski snared the loose ball and seconds later he grabbed Bomber's forward pass for Flyers' second major score.

Secondly, Flyers' convert was good. Flyers scored in the closing minutes when Ken Preston, Bomber backfielder, fumbled Charlie Harrison's kick on his own 15-yard line.

The second stanza went scoreless. Early in the third quarter, using the aerial route, scored from their own 25-yard line to tie the game.

The armers opened a last-quarter drive after Bill Hendel, famed defenceman for Portage la Prairie Terriers, dominated junior football games, failed in his attempted placement from 27 yards out.

A lateral play from Layt to Harrison to J. Wolschenko netted Flyers 35 yards. With play down in Bombers' territory, Shely intercepted a Frits lateral passing play and raced for the Airmen's goal.

Frank Webster, hero of the opening game, overtook the base Bomber backfielder to prevent a touchdown. Chikowski's major score followed a minute later.

RETURN TO ROOST
BROOKLYN, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Kirby Hight gave 13:50 Brooklyn fans continued pennant hope Monday, as well as a fine case of the jitters, as he pitched the Dodgers to a 3-1 victory over Philadelphia Phillies.

The die-hard fans, who for a brief spell thought they had won the way too poor for their Bums, came back in force Monday to root their team in, and on occasion it appeared all their cowbells and whistles wouldn't be enough to do it.

Spotted in a two-run lead in the first inning, Hight was in hot water off, and on all afternoon despite the fact he allowed only four hits. New York's victory, coupled with a little spotly fielding behind him, kept him from having even one.

As far as what really occurred was concerned, everything happened in the first inning, when all four runs of the game were scored. The rest was a question of how long Hight could walk the tight rope.

He was opposed by the veteran St. Johnson, who deserved a better start than the one he got, but he but outside the first inning, when three unearned runs were chalked up against him, he had evened out under control.

Hight had the bases full in the first inning before he got a man out, but even at that he would have escaped unscathed except for a wild pitch. He walked Galt, and the Dodgers had evened out.

Both May and Lloyd Warner, who led to Camilli, were safe when Camilli hit with the ball in trying for a double play. Ron Northing then singled to fill the

Getting Around
The modern airplane is a terrible engine of destruction. But it also helps to brighten the lives of the men who are fighting the Axis powers on many far-flung battle-fronts. This was demonstrated over the city with the brief visit here of Bob Hope, movie, radio comedian and three other stars of Hollywood. It was the first of the party was on the way back to the States after an inspection tour to visit to Alaska and the Aleutians.

CONVENTION REPORTS
A lengthy report on the recent convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, held at Winnipeg, was presented by several of the delegates.

THE QUESTION
Should the system of determining dress size for clothing and shoes be changed?

THE ANSWERS
ELEE J. PAULSEN, labor manager: Most decidedly. There is nothing so absurd as to have a man buy a size 8 dress shoe for a boy, or a size 12 shoe for a girl.

JOSEPH HOFFMAN, general manager: It seems that there is room for improvement. Dress sizes are most confusing. There is no apparent reason why dress sizes should be determined by age, but to a certain stage when suddenly they measure size 22 for the boy, and size 24 for the girl.

LAWRENCE "LARRY" McLEAY, teacher: The smallest shoe made should be size one, and the sizes should be the upward number. It would take only a short while for the shoe to get used to wearing shoes size 22 or 27 or 30, and there would be no confusion whatever.

Canada Trains Pilots for Aircraft Carrier Planes

This determined looking young horseman is a member of the Coast Guard's newly organized Horse Patrol. Well armed and ready for business, he can now cover more territory more efficiently in his search for the enemy along our shores.

Veterans of British aircraft carriers are shown important part of new British fighting planes to make them ready for action when they return to their ships in defence of their country. The Fleet Air Arm students had seen service on such famous British carriers as H.M. Hermes, Eagle, Ark Royal and Illustrious. Others had dropped bombs on German-held ports in Libya.

Officers at Norman Rogers Airport at Kingston scan the sky over Lake Ontario to watch their young charges going through their paces. The students have come from New Zealand, England and Australia, augmented by some Canadians. They will be full-fledged aircraft carrier pilots when they graduate from the school within the next couple of months.

Presentation of a new ambulance to Newfoundland contingents of the Royal Navy was made at a ceremony at the new Royal Canadian Naval hospital in St. John's. Hon. L. Edward Emerson, K.C., commissioner for justice and defence of Newfoundland (right), handed over the ambulance to Rear-Admiral L. E. Murray, flag officer Newfoundland Force, on behalf of the Canadian Women's Club of New York, the donors. The ambulance will be operated by the Royal Canadian Naval Hospital. In the centre is Commander A. L. Anderson, base medical officer. The ambulance is shown in the background.

Canada's sailors now finishing their training at base "somewhere in Scotland" not only train for their work at sea, guarding the lifelines of the Empire. They are also helping to build extensions to their base buildings and harvesting grain in fields attached to their base. Here are Canadian sailors at work hoeing an onion patch while the man on watch carries on.

The War Today

BY JOHN COLLINGWOOD READE
Questions Raised by Dieppe Report

A long but necessarily incomplete report of the action at Dieppe has been released by the Ministry of National Defence. It is a story of unexampled bravery exhibited by the officers and men of the Canadian Army. What is less clear is whether the expedition was well conceived, adequately planned and executed, and whether it was already directed.

Sixty per cent of the attacking force was lost, the armored units were unable to get their tanks in, and, army co-operation aircraft failed to stop the Germans bringing up mobile artillery and gunners shifting their forces about to suit the plan of the attack. Mention is made of a chance encounter with German armored vehicles escorting a tank, which raises the question as to the efficacy of the aerial reconnaissance, which might have noted the position of these vehicles the evening before, and suggests that a screen of torpedo boats deployed along the approaches to the proposed water route well in advance might have intercepted such enemy shipping and engaged them. Such engagements are not infrequent, and the enemy would attack no special significance to the incident.

And, finally, the question arises whether, having lost the element of surprise, which is essential to a raid rather than a full-scale invasion, the attack should have been prosecuted at all.

SOME THINGS OMITTED

It is fruitless and unwise to condemn the conduct of a military operation without full and complete knowledge of the circumstances. But it is reasonable to expect a certain amount of economy in the use of life and material when the objectives sought are not of paramount military importance. There is nothing in the report of Dieppe to suggest that any objectives were reached which would warrant such a lavish use of force.

Perhaps important information was obtained as a result of the raid, but it is almost certain that equally important information was imparted to the Germans, who have been given ample time to digest it and profit by it. It would seem that dive-bombers could have been used to some advantage to prevent the enemy from shifting mobile forces and artillery to the points of attack; that infiltration tactics could have been used in advance of the main assault to cripple the enemy's communication system; and that paratroopers and glider-borne troops could have created a diversion and enough confusion to permit the establishment of a firm foothold.

We are all vitally concerned in these matters, and it must not be regarded as presumptuous in civilians to question the wisdom and judgment of those in whose keeping are the lives of many men and the success of a vital cause.

REORGANIZATION SUGGESTED

The chief value of the Dieppe raid is not the information gained from the enemy by force of arms, for that is to a large extent offset by the information imparted to him. It is the lesson that military commanders should have learned from their own mistakes and the inadequacy of their equipment, the purpose of which is served by puffing up a doubtful expedition and magnifying it into a great victory. We are puffed against a formidable and extremely cunning foe. We can only beat him by learning all his tricks and showing him a few he hasn't thought of. This cannot be done by the conscientious application of tactical principles laid down in manuals. We learn only by painful experience and by ruthlessly removing from their commands men whose wits and judgment are not up to the mark.

No man ever achieved the Kingdom of Heaven by the way he went wrong. Moreover, the road to hell is paved with good intentions unsupported by performance.

If, in the opinion of the competent authorities who possess all the information, the Dieppe raid was expensive in life and material out of all proportion to the military objectives secured, it should be followed by a reorganization of staff and command, a change in training, a modification of equipment and the installation of new tactical concepts.

STALINGRAD COUNTS

For three weeks and two days now, the Germans have been throwing their armor and armor against the gates of Stalingrad. The loss in German men and material has been heavy, and the strain on German organization and supply facilities must have been great. There seems to be a slight revival of activity, but it is not clear whether this is a change in tactics or a modification of equipment and the installation of new tactical concepts.

The Russian garrison has been ordered now to take the offensive, and in a number of counter-attacks it has been successful in dispersing German advance units and expelling them from the positions of advantage they had won, particularly in the northwest sector. If it is true that the Russians have large reinforcements of fresh troops available to throw across the Volga and reinvigorate the tired German attackers, the latter's strength to accomplish all their various purposes, and that paratroopers and glider-borne troops could have created a diversion and enough confusion to permit the establishment of a firm foothold.

We are all vitally concerned in these matters, and it must not be regarded as presumptuous in civilians to question the wisdom and judgment of those in whose keeping are the lives of many men and the success of a vital cause.

WHOLE FRONT ALIVE

The Soviet High Command is combining its renewed aggressiveness at Stalingrad with a very powerful attack in the German tank at Voronezh, where a sudden Russian attack forced the Finns unprepared and threw them back with loss of equipment.

Similar diversion operations in the past have had the effect of reducing the pressure on Stalingrad, but if the Germans continue to be as prodigious of life and materials with as little success as they have in the past the time must come eventually when they will be compelled to slip on off some of the strength
